Flexible Data Management for a Growing Portfolio of Studies

Customized expert biostatistics and statistical programming offerings that help client studies succeed with support for data needs and innovative trial design. Experienced Worldwide Flex staff and dedicated study teams, biostatisticians, and statistical programmers are committed to delivering consistent, high-quality work.

The Challenge

A small biopharma client wanted to enhance their in-house biometrics capabilities. They had a large pipeline of 25-30 studies across Phase I and II and wanted to add additional data management services. They contacted us to support an immediate need for a scalable team to handle their growing biometrics needs.

The Solution

Worldwide Flex initially provided three data managers then scaled to add multiple roles across clinical programming, technical writing, medical coding, lab support, and electronic data capture (EDC) programming. Worldwide's team led the programming efforts and deliveries for various milestones and deliverables.

In total, Worldwide provided the following to add further breadth and depth to the sponsor's organization:

- 10 Clinical Data Managers
- 1 EDC Programmer
- 1 Clinical Programmer
- 1 Medical Coder
- 1 Lab Data Management Specialist
- 1 Technical Writer
- 4 Stat Programmers
- 1 Biostatistician

The Outcome

Worldwide Flex successfully tapped our expert biometrics network to provide qualified people and demonstrated our ability to listen and understand the sponsor's needs and meet it with a flexible solution. Our team worked closely with the sponsor to understand key qualities for each role, facilitated onboarding the team, monitored performance, and provided support throughout the engagement. Having a flexible approach and functional expertise allows us to bring the right solution to meet the sponsor's needs.

Worldwide Flex has been wonderful in providing us with the support we need and helping us to quickly expand our biometrics department."
