

Case Study

Rapid CRA Deployment for Rescue Study

Worldwide Flex engages highly skilled and experienced industry professionals to meet study and therapeutic requirements. Our teams become an extension of your own, which fosters trust and open communication.

The Challenge

A mid-size biotechnology company approached Worldwide Flex with a request to rescue site monitoring activities on two Phase III obsessive-compulsive disorder registrational plus one long-term follow-up (LTFU) study.

This request included a total of 95 clinical sites across the U.S. and Canada with an enrollment target of 700 subjects per study. All 1,400 subjects were rolling into the LTFU program. The client required a rapid transition from the contract research organization and a target to deploy clinical research associates (CRA) to these sites within weeks of the contract execution.

The Solution

Worldwide Flex delivered a study team structure to support the client's needs, which included:

- Project Director to provide program-level guidance and oversight
- Three clinical trial leads, with one lead assigned to each study supporting CRAs and monitoring activities
- 28 CRAs to support monitoring activities across 95 clinical sites
- Three in-house CRAs, with one assigned to each study to support centralized activities
- Three additional CRAs to support eTMF filing and other support tasks

The Outcome

Worldwide Flex delivered a project team in record time using the following steps:

- 1 Deployed a resourcing manager who reviewed the extensive Worldwide Flex database to identify clinical research professionals for each needed role
- 2 Confirmed candidates, completed screenings, selections, and onboarding activities within two weeks
- 3 Completed contracting, offer letters, IT, and operational systems access setup
- 4 Provided custom, off-cycle onboarding support for the study team to ensure rapid deployment to the sites
- 5 CRAs were in the field by the start of week three

Let's talk about how our personalized approach, development expertise, and global resources make us a strong partner for your development program.

Contact Us